

MRS. GOULD'S LIFE AT HIS ME, DRUNKEN ORGY.

Coachman, Carpenter, Footman, Maid, Florist and Clerk All Relate Instances When Mistress Was Intoxicated and Profane.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, June 16.—Howard Gould did not go on the stand today to testify against his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, whose suit for separation he is opposing.

Instead there was a continuation of the servant's gossip, accounts by maids, coachman, footman, and clerk, all of whom had been in the house at various times when Mrs. Gould was intoxicated and profane.

What Katherine Clemmons Gould heard today was but a reiteration, and in some respects an amplification, of yesterday's testimony, the basis of which was that at various times at Castle Gould she had been intoxicated and profane.

WIFE'S CORNS HIS UNDOING

Newly-Married Phenologist Impelled to Quackery by His Discovery.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

PORTLAND (Or.) June 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Prof." J. K. Marsh, phenologist and quack, was so shocked when he found that the prize he had drawn in a matrimonial bureau lottery had come on the bottom of her feet that he packed up his belongings and left his hearthside by stealth one week after the nuptials.

It was at Tacoma that this harrowing sequence of events came to pass four days ago. Today Marsh was arrested on a ranch five miles from Portland, where he had taken refuge. Wife desertion was the charge.

"I just couldn't stand the sight of those corns," confessed the "professor." "It was awful and on the bottom of her feet."

"Sorry," said Detective Heller, who made the arrest, "but your wife says you took her and you have got to keep her, corns and all."

Occidental Degrees
Sole Surplus.
Is Established by Trustees.
With Pomona Is Not Practicable.

is a Yale graduate and has traveled extensively in Europe.
Louis M. Sammis, a graduate of Indiana School, has been appointed instructor of Latin in the academy.
Charles B. Moore, who has been assistant principal of Occidental Academy for three years, has been promoted to the principalship, to succeed
B. J. Chaskey, resigned.
President Hise announced that the board of trustees has decided that a major of Pomona College and Occidental College is not practicable. He also said that while two or three new sites for Occidental College are being considered, nothing definite will be done in the matter for some time.

The statement of the trustees regarding the merger follows: "While it is true that the Occidental trustees are planning to relocate the college department upon a much larger campus, they believe that it is not wise to remove from the immediate vicinity of the growing city of Los Angeles. They also feel quite certain that the advantages of merging the two institutions would be more than offset by the financial sacrifices which would be made by abandoning the Pomona campus and buildings and locating elsewhere.

"For these two important reasons and after most careful and prayerful consideration, the Occidental trustees have decided that a merger is not
practicable."

The board of trustees presented to Mme. DeC. Wilson, who has resigned from the chair of French in the college, life scholarships for her daughters, and to Dr. Herbert T. Archibald, who has been granted an indefinite leave of absence for the purpose of traveling in Europe, was given a check for a generous amount.

The Horace Cleveland memorial scholarship for the sophomore year was awarded to Alice Baker. Several students received "A" in all their studies and Dr. Hise is to present them with prizes. The following named seniors were elected members of the Society of the Olive Crown, the honor organization of the college: Maude Knudson, Herbert Rankin, Edna Love,
Arthur Paul, Elaine Strohbridge.

Thirty-six students, forming the largest class Occidental has ever turned out, received diplomas. The college chapel was crowded long before the exercises began and all the space in the corridors within earshot of the platform was occupied. The platform and auditorium were lavishly decorated with flowers and greens and after the exercises most of the graduates required assistance in carrying away the bouquets and gifts they received.

An academic procession, in which the members of the board of trustees, the faculty, and the seniors participated, formed at the Rimmon library and marched across the campus to the Hall of Letters. The seniors occupied seats directly in front of the platform and the trustees and faculty sat on the stage.

The orations that were delivered by the senior speakers were among the best that have been made by Occidental graduates. "Every Individual a Sovereign" was delivered by P.
G. Paul, William E. Roberts spoke of "The Tyranny of Talent," Maude E.
Knudson, "The Future of Stoicism," in which she compared the ancient philosophy of Christianity. Heriberto P.
Rankin, the valedictorian, impressively bade farewell to the college.

Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D.D., presented the diplomas to the graduates.
Dean W. D. Ward, Prof. W. R. Stevenson and Prof. Lorin A. Handley participated in the programme.

The following named students received diplomas:

NEW YORK, June 16.—Confidence that the common stock of the United will be admitted to listing on the Paris Bourse was expressed at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. here. Politics, it was said, had much to do with the recent opposition to placing the stock on the Paris market and it was intimated that this came chiefly from French steel manufacturers.

TIMBER RESOURCES
OF CALIFORNIA.

It is estimated by the United States Forest Service that the total amount of standing timber in the State of California approximates 228,460,000 board feet, of which 100,518,000 feet
belong to the Federal government, 1,540,000 feet to the State, and the remaining 126,402,000 feet are privately owned. Of the last figure given, the railroads own 5,555,000 feet.

About 65 per cent. of the privately owned timber, or a total of 76,000,000 feet is found in the coast redwood region—a narrow strip rarely more than thirty miles wide extending from Monterey county to Southern Oregon. Very little of this class of timber, only a fraction of 1 per cent., belongs to the Federal government, though it owns a considerable proportion of the total stand of big tree or giant sequoia, the wood of which is very similar to that of the coast redwood.

The stand of government timber may be roughly divided as follows: On national forests, 94,800,000 board feet; on Indian reservations, 3,000,000 feet; on national parks, 8,000,000;
on unreserved public land, 3,216,000 feet, or a total of 109,016,000 board feet.

The national forests now are in a practically virgin condition, where the annual growth of timber just about offsets the annual loss through decay, but with proper forest management and adequate protection the timber can be made to increase at an annual rate of at least 1 per cent. of the present stand. In other words, through proper supervision in cutting and adequate protection it is possible to cut about 1,000,000,000 feet of timber annually from the national forests of California for a practically limitless period, and this cut of timber far from depleting the forest resources would actually improve them. With this in view, the Forest Service is selling as rapidly as there is demand for it the old and overmature timber, which usually furnishes the largest per cent. of the clear grades. Under careful supervision the stand when cut over is left in excellent condition for growing a second crop of timber, and conservation is thus brought about by wise use.

"Just Your Size"
And Ready To Put On

We want stout men, thin men, tall men, the "in-betweens," every man hard to fit to come here.
There is an Alfred Benjamin suit in our store that is "just your size." There is no need to dwell on the quality, style and workmanship of Benjamin suits—they are simply perfect.
Don't expect your tailor to meet Benjamin's new summer clothing creations at any price—he simply can not do it.

THE BUSINESS
Building homes for the people who pay for them on the installment plan.

THE PLAN
The first payment and security for the balance is obtained before a home is started. The monthly payments as received are reinvested along with additional capital from sales of stock.

THE RESULTS
The stockholders receive 3 per cent. dividends quarterly out of the interest and the balance with the building and other profits create the surplus which belongs to the stockholders and justify the advances
in the price of shares.

CHRONIC CATARRH, STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE.
O. A. Dunman 1415 Buena Vista St., Los Angeles.
Mr. Dunman says: "For fifteen (15) years I have been a victim of CATARRH and I have always had weak lungs. For the past four (4) years I was always short of breath. Would choke up and wheeze. I always had a pain in the chest and headache. My nose would stop up until I was compelled to breathe through my mouth and I would have a cold and a great deal, especially when I would take cold, which was a great deal of the time. I also had trouble with my stomach and liver. I would start up and was always constipated. I was weak and run down in every way. This was my condition when I began Dr. Shores & Shores' treatment.
I can say they have helped me in every way. I feel like a new man, and I take great pleasure in recommending Dr.
Shores to all sufferers, for they have done wonders for me. Any one doubting this testimonial is at perfect liberty to call on me, for I feel sick people should know of Dr. Shores' great skill."
(Signed) "O. A. DUNMAN."

Now want this very piece as a foundation for a great harbor for the people. If San Pedro could give $10,000,000 for a harbor there would be some reason for not complaining. If I lived in San Pedro I would thank God I could vote to give a part of a great city of 350,000 within a year and of 1,000,000 men now and 1200."

 UREKA, June 16.—After two years at in prison, John Hayes was acquitted by a jury today on a charge of complicity in the murder of Albert William Jenks, brother, during longshoremen's strike of 1907.

The fight occurred when a party of men visited the steamer Guadalupe at the foot of Whipple street and endeavored to persuade the non-union to quit work. The talk resulted in a shooting affray, and when the smoke cleared away the Jenks brother was dead and Hayes had a bullet through his lung.

Hayes and Frank Siedinger, with two others, were arrested, but only two named were held for trial.

They were convicted of murder in the second degree in 1927, but the Supreme Court granted new trials. The second trial of Hayes resulted in an acquittal today, and Sidelinger is still in jail awaiting the second hearing.

"The following recommendations concerning certain details of packing and transporting frogs to market are suggested by a high authority in Paris. Frogs should not be caught during the prevalence of a strong wind or in rain, but on a hot, sunny day, and on a dry hot weather. When taken with nets or by any other method that leaves the animal alive and uninjured, they should be put at once into a sack or box without water, where they should be kept dry for at least two hours, during which they stude a little of the liquid. Water is then measured in which washes away this secretion and leaves the frog clean and ready for market."

Queen Quality SHOW

Every season the great "Queen Quality" factory has a happy faculty of producing some one design which sets the pace for imitators. This season the great favorite is the "Vanity Fair" model. It's a 4-button low shoe pattern, on one of the newest short vamp shapes—so extremely popular at the present time. Rich in lines of graceful symmetry, as comfortable as the best efforts of leading custom shoemakers.

More light, more room and a generally better location is the result of the change, which we hope you will at once note, and approve with your patronage.

A wedding of more than ordinary interest was celebrated at the First Congregational Church on Tuesday evening, by Dr. William Horace Day. The bride was Miss Manale Condit Ng, and the groom was Suet Young, both full-blooded Chinese of good family.

It was an elaborate American wedding in all its appointments, beginning with the invitations, which were issued in the name of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ng Hon Kim. The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion, the front of the happy pair having provided among the orange blossoms and other flowers, 1000 white carnations and 300 bunches of sweet peas. The bride and groom were in conventional American dress and the ushers, all of whom were Chinamen, wore full-dress American clothes. The entire family of the bride, including father, mother, brothers and sisters, were in native Chinese costume, and the guests included a large number of the local Chinese colony and many white people.

The ring ceremony was used, prefacing which Dr. Day made an appropriate address, which was interpreted for the Chinese portion of the audience by Rev. Lee Hong, the local Chinese Congregational minister.

The bride was the winner of a scholarship in The Times scholarship contest of two years ago and graduated from the Woodbury Business College. She soon after secured a position as a stenographer in Bakersfield, which she has retained ever since. The groom is a prosperous young business man of this city.

TWO THROWN FROM BUGGY.

Hanford Men Suffer When Team They Are Driving Takes Fright at Automobile.

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES. HANFORD, June 14.—Back and legs wrenched and lacerations on the face and arms were injuries received by James Welsh this afternoon in a runaway, caused by an excited young team taking fright at a passing automobile. George Pemberton, the owner of the team, was also in the rig and suffered slighter injuries. The two men were thrown from the buggy when the horses made a sharp turn at the end of a street. Welsh had hold of the lines, but did not attempt to control the course of the team around the turn, believing they would make it better without interference.

OIL DEVELOPMENT.

A great deal of development is now going on in the southwestern part of Kings county for oil, and a number of companies now drilling expect to bring their wells in within the next few weeks. Some of the most prominent men in the Coalinga field are interested in the operations in the Dunderberg region and are confident success will crown their venture. The striking of oil in that territory will mean the proving of a vast belt and the answering of the result of the drilling is being awaited with keen interest.

SHAM BATTLE.

Company M. of the N.G.C. had a sham battle at dawn yesterday morning several miles from town, and the judges declared honors even. The company was divided into two squads, one of which camped throughout the night on the banks of a large ditch, while the other stealthily advanced upon it. At sunrise a surprise was executed and the mimic war waged hot for an hour.

C. J. Fenner and Miss M. M. Wagner have been appointed to the Board of Education to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of A. M. Ayers and J. M. Hany.

PLACE FOR SHORE.

County Clerk Cunningham today appointed John T. Shore, son of Supervisor Shore of Lemoore, as Deputy County Clerk. Mr. Shore has for several years been a resident of Los Angeles. The deputyship was created by the passage of the county government act by the recent Legislature.

Following his discharge from the Gurnee mill, Friday, R. H. Wilson battered up Foreman William K. Knapp severely with his fists and was arrested soon after the fracas on a charge of assault preferred by Knapp. Wilson alleged that Knapp insulted him when he asked why he had been given his blue envelope and that Knapp threatened to shoot him.

TURNS HOME ON PRINCIPAL.

At their last meeting the trustees of the Lemoore Union High School passed resolutions condemning the action of a young man of that city in turning a hose on Principal J. M. Hinkins as he passed by the young man's place of employment, and commending the retiring principal's regime. The assault, said to have been unprovoked, aroused a great deal of indignation.

During the term just ended the trustees of the Hanford school employed twenty additional teachers, making the total number of instructors twenty at the close, and when the teachers for next year were employed twenty-two were selected. It is figured by Supervising Principal W. C. Baker that next term at the opening there will be at least forty-five pupils for each of these instructors, and it seems certain that more teachers will have to be employed. The rapidly-increasing attendance in the schools is a good guide to the growth of the city, and certainly shows that Hanford is making a steady gain in population.

FACTS FEATURING AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

Occasionally it happens that honor the man or woman—instead vice versa, and when this happens, the abundant evidence that such honors are deserved. Right here we have a case in point.

Thursday morning at the faculty of Occidental College filed into the ranks, offices and degrees, for the commencement exercises, there was a procession a modest little woman, clad in her sober cap and gown, who carried herself with quiet dignity and as is always her custom, seated in the farthest row of the audience in the least conspicuous position.

It is her habit, although for years of history has been recognized as a student of the college, by the student body, by the faculty and the general and spiritual forces of that institution.

At the conclusion of the graduation exercises, this gifted woman called forward from her seat in the rear row and the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon her.

A roar of applause went up at that half as fairly woke the entire student body, the hundreds of personal friends of the college and the Cunningham the assembled especially the graduating class, with enthusiasm and class pride, of applause and a cheer that handkerchiefs demonstrated that the student body had been done to this point and refined woman—the loved and revered "class mother" of the six loyal sons and daughters of Occidental College yesterday received their degrees.

Occidental College honored itself in naming Miss Cunningham.

Wedding Gift. Good many of us are puzzling over these days about that wedding gift for Macfarlane or Katherine Shaw. We're deadbeats tired of the old-fashioned glass and silver offerings and we want to do something that will present a picture or a book above and beyond all—we do not want to give something individual, but something that will be a reminder of the day when I chance to meet her. Every time I walk down the street I am beset by numerous reminders when I chance to meet her. The all-absorbing question is "Do we want to get for a wedding something rather new and unusual, you know, and something that will be a reminder of the day when I chance to meet her."

Thursday I went a-hunting and I found something which I think is really out of the ordinary. It is a book of some inexpensive articles, gradually work up to the $30, $40 and $50 class.

Candlesticks. Now there's quite a fad for collecting candlesticks. You know we're back to colonial days in preference everything these days. In fact, a regular lot-out of mahogany and brass candlesticks in all shapes and patterns and prices. We're just you wait some of the candlesticks come as low as $2.00 and some as high as $30—these are in mahogany, too, reaching from the end of a large hall, to the end of a small room.

GIRLS STOLEN FOR SLAVERY?

May Be Smuggled to China and Life of Sin.

Sleuth Scents Clew to Many That Are Missing.

Fall Into Procurers' Hands and Drop from Sight.

A possible clew to the whereabouts of some of the young girls who have disappeared mysteriously from Los Angeles in the last year or so was furnished yesterday by a local detective who has been thrown in contact with a gang of procurers recently driven out of Los Angeles.

He makes the startling statement that the girls have been "haunted" on the streets of Los Angeles, smuggled aboard vessels at San Francisco and taken to China, there to live a life of slavery in brothels and opium dens.

Scores of girls are reported as missing to the police every year. In many instances they return home safely; if so, the police seldom hear of it, for parents and procurers are lax in making known this fact.

Captain of Detectives Flannery said yesterday that the files of his office contain the names of many girls who dropped suddenly from sight and from whom nothing has been heard since their disappearance.

THOUGHT TO BE DEAD. Several long denials of the old red-light district are said to have been engaged in the traffic of procuring young white girls for the resorts in China. A price of $1000 a head is reported to be offered for each girl.

The business has been profitable to the procurers who, engineered it. Their chief quarry, it is said, is girls with no families or friends to raise alarm upon their disappearance.

Orphans are sought more than any others. Youth and good looks are the principal points, beauty not counting so much.

One of the procurers is said to have confessed just before leaving Los Angeles for San Diego, that he had sent away twenty-five girls within a year. This meant a profit of nearly $25,000, only a small part of the money going to those who aided him in his operations.

He was only one of several in the same occupation. In the past there have been several arrests in Los Angeles of men and women who were engaged in bringing young girls here from foreign countries for immoral purposes. Never, so far as known, has there been a rest of a person who induced girls from here to go to other countries for the same purpose.

Local officials say it is difficult to obtain evidence upon which malefactors of the latter class can be apprehended. Among one girl said to have been sent to China are a number who went willingly, knowing the life that was a store for them. They were of a hardened class, and they welcomed the change.

Of others, many were virtually taken prisoner here and came to realize the loss of their real life only upon being landed in China, where they were delivered into their living hell.

Once there, an opportunity is open for them to get away, nor to communicate with relatives and friends here. In a little while it is all over with them and they are back, they would not come back.

In San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, and in other cities and cities along the coast, it is said the same kind of raid is being made on young girls. If the story told by the procurers to the detective is to be believed, thousands of girls have been sent from the United States to China in the last few years.

So far as Los Angeles is concerned, however, it is declared that the business has been broken up. The procurers and malefactors are "on the run," and there is little opportunity for them to make any kind of livelihood.

FROHMAN STANDS UP FOR BURKE.

Says Her Acting Is Too New and Up-to-Date to Be Appreciated in London—F. R. Benson and Laurence Irving Coming to America.

BY MALCOLM WATSON. LONDON, May 15.—Chief of the week's events is the distinctly unfavorable reception of the critics of "Love Watches," with Billie Burke in the leading part. The show has been "The Devil" was had enough in all conscience, but not more marked than the severity displayed both to the new piece at the Haymarket and to unfortunate Billie Burke. There but he no question that from the English viewpoint, at any rate, her art has suffered appreciably by her stay in the United States. Acting, of course, must always be more or less a matter of sentiment and of taste; what is one man's meat is another man's poison; what pleases me may very well disgust you. So, I personally, I am compelled to deplore the change in Billie Burke's method. I am perfectly prepared to find my own views derided by others. I very much fear the piece will not retain its place in the Haymarket program until the close of the season.

The morning after production I had a long chat with Charles Frohman, who obviously had extracted but little satisfaction from his perusal of the notices. He is too good a sportsman, however, not to take a joke. He said, "I have been told that you are a perfect performance in the new school of acting. Whenever an actor offers anything, I am sure to be interested. I take it for her to be appreciated. The path of pleasure is always beset with danger and that is precisely why I choose to walk in it. Last night Billie Burke did exactly what I wanted her to do. Five years hence London will recognize her method to be the true comedy method. You can't stop the advance of the rising tide and, therefore, it is flowing in our direction. Billie Burke is absolutely right and before very long you will all acknowledge it."

Another of your leading managers has just arrived in London, Lester Duke, namely, I gather that he is over here for purposes of business as much as of pleasure. He has a big scheme in hand for a series of Shakespearean revivals in the United States next fall and he is now doing the London theaters with the object of picking up any little stray bits of histrionic talent which may be floating about. Talking of Shakespearean productions, P. R. Benson telegraphed me the other day from Stratford-on-Avon that he had closed with an offer to cross the Atlantic early next year in order to undertake the direction of the Shakespearean festival in the principal cities of America on lines similar to those adopted at Stratford. Benson, however, cannot remain with you long as he has made himself responsible for the Stratford festival of 1930.

As I foreshadowed last week Charles Frohman has arranged with George Edwards for a dramatic season at the Adelphi, beginning about the middle of September. The first attraction is to be "The Great Divide," with Henry Miller in his original role. He is to have Wynne Mathison as his leading woman, who, however, is a little better known to me. She was in the part formerly played by Margaret Anglin, who, by the way, is now in London, but who, I believe, will be in New York Wednesday next accompanied by Alice Kasper. The Adelphi company will consist mainly of English artists, but a few Americans will be brought over to fill the character parts. "The Great Divide" is to be followed by "The Servant of the House," about which we have heard a good deal and are naturally anxious to see. In this Henry Miller will appear, but he has promised to take the stage direction of both pieces under his control. Should succeed, a new venture it will be still further extended.

It is not often Frohman is tempted to write to the newspapers. This week, however, he has broken his rule by addressing a letter to The Times on the subject of the national theater. There is no blinking the fact that Frohman's announced determination to turn the Duke of York's into a national theater is a project of considerable size in the camp of the nationalists. Their fear is—and I am bound to confess it seems to me entirely well-founded—that with these counter schemes of Frohman and Herbert French to establish a national theater, the attention will be diverted from the larger and more important project. Frohman defends his position, insisting that he is merely clearing the ground for others more capable than he to cultivate it, and that he will be only too pleased to hand over the fruits of his labors to the committee of the national theater. The moment that institution is sufficiently advanced to make effective use of them. And now we are waiting to possess our souls in patience, pending the development of events.

Laurence Irving writes me that he has received an offer from Lee Shubert to return to America in October for a tour of twenty weeks with "The Incubus," his own version of "The Le Hammetons" which he produced a few weeks ago at the Hackett Theater in New York. Irving, together with his wife, Mabel Hackney, has been playing at the Coliseum this week and, on the termination of his engagement at the house, he has a home made a round of the provinces. But Oswald Stoll has consented to release him, or rather to postpone the fulfillment of his contract until after his return from America.

Gillette's version of "Samson" is to be withdrawn at the Garrick at Whit-sundae, when it will have achieved a record of something like 120 performances. The result, perhaps, is a little disappointing as the play went off with a boom that seemed to promise a long career. It is to be replaced by Clyde Fitch's play "The Woman in the Case" of which Herbert Sneath recently acquired the English rights.

Arthur Bourchier wants a holiday; consequently, he will not appear in Fitch's play which is to be entrusted to the hands of Violet Vanbrugh, Grace Lane, Charles V. France and others. "The Woman in the Case" has, I understand, run with unbroken success for four years in America and it is an odd lot for the sale of all concerned that it will enjoy equal prosperity in this country.

MARRIED IN HOSPITAL. Groom Wheeled to Bride's Bedside Where Ceremony is Performed. Victims of Auto Wreck.

NEW YORK, June 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—A young man, Ralph C. Brandreth, who inherited several million dollars from his father, a pill manufacturer, was married yesterday afternoon in a hospital at Monroe, N. Y., to Miss Edith Armstrong, of this city.

Late Monday night the young couple, with Miss Armstrong's aunt, Miss Martha McKay, of Newburgh, Pa., were motoring from that place to this city when the steering gear broke and the machine crashed into a tree.

All three were so seriously injured that they were sent to the hospital at Monroe. Mr. Brandreth suggested a postponement of the wedding. The ceremony should take place as scheduled.

Therefore a local minister was called into the hospital yesterday and with Miss Armstrong and Miss McKay propped up on pillows, Mr. Brandreth was wheeled in their room a chair and the ceremony performed, with Miss McKay as a witness.

When they are able to leave the hospital, they will not be for two or three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Brandreth will start for Europe to spend their honeymoon.

PURSUED BY HATCHET MEN. Chinaman Jumps from Bridge into Chicago River, Fearing Death at Hands of Tong.

CHICAGO, June 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—To escape hatchet men of a Chinese tong, which he said had sentenced him to death, Sam Kee leaped into the Chicago River from Randolph street bridge, in the presence of hundreds of pedestrians.

Several policemen saw the Chinaman throw himself into the water, and as the current carried him toward Madison street, he was rescued, unconscious by a crew of the tug. After being revived by physicians he was locked up.

"I came here from San Francisco because I learned I had been sentenced to death by a tong," said Kee to Inspector Wheeler. "I have been hiding in Chicago for a year, but the tong society learned where I was. I could not remain here much longer. I was going to Los Angeles, but two brothers of the death society discovered me, and I had to leave my place of business."

While I was purchasing my railroad ticket I noticed two of my countrymen following me, and I knew they were after me by the way they were looking at me. When I learned the bridge I decided to save myself by jumping into the river."

MILITARY INSTRUCTOR. A Washington dispatch received by The Times last night says that, by direction of President Taft, Lieut. Paul U. McClure (retired) was yesterday detailed to the Harvard School in Los Angeles, as professor of military science and tactics.

BENNETT CASE.

The poison depended much upon the condition of the stomach at the time of administration. If it were empty, the poison worked more rapidly than if it were full. He said that a hypodermic injection of strychnine would not reach the stomach.

His testimony in regard to the absence of anything to show ptomaine poisoning caused a ripple of interest in the courtroom. In technical language he described the toxic effects of ptomaines and stated that death rarely occurred until twenty hours after the deadly substance entered the stomach. Strychnine poisoning, he said, usually causes death in about five or six hours—sometimes in much less time.

"In the case of ptomaine poisoning," continued Dr. Stookley, "death usually comes when the patient is in a state of coma. There is generally an irritable condition of the stomach, and it is not infrequently possible to get a per cent. of the case. Mrs. Bennett's stomach was in a normal condition, can state positively that in my judgment she did not die from ptomaine poisoning. I am inclined to the opinion that she died from the effects of strychnine administered through the mouth."

On cross-examination, the witness admitted that he had never seen a person die from either ptomaine or strychnine poisoning. He said his experiments were confined to animals. He was inclined to believe that the test, suggested by Attorney Drake, and said he never used any such method to detect the presence of a suspected poison. When pinned down by the attorney he admitted that he did not find enough strychnine in the parts examined to cause death, but accounted for this on the theory that the remainder of the poison had passed into the blood and therefore was not detected at the chemical examination.

Dr. Stookley, who conducted a series of chemical tests similar to those of Dr. Stookley, testified that he found strychnine in the parts examined. He had evidently weakened the power of the strychnine for some of the impregnated fluid had been administered to a frog with no ill effects.

NO PTOMAIN EVIDENCE. He admitted that there is one kind of ptomaine similar to strychnine in its chemical reactions and that it was difficult to distinguish. But he stated positively it was his opinion that Mrs. Bennett did not die from ptomaine poisoning. As to the likelihood that death resulted from a dose of strychnine, he would not go as far as his colleague. "There is no evidence to contradict the theory that Mrs. Bennett died from strychnine poisoning," he said. Further than this he would not go

MEETS FRIEND OF

HIS BOYHOOD

Pleasant Incident Is Related

Of The Participants.

One of the pleasant incidents that occurred to L. T. Cooper during his tour of Kansas was the unexpected meeting of a friend of his boyhood days. It came about through the accounts published in the Topeka newspapers regarding Mr. Cooper's work in that city. Mr. W. A. Sams, an influential citizen of Topeka, Kan., about ten miles from Topeka, and who formerly lived in Kentucky, Mr. Cooper's native State, before he came to Topeka, had written articles and made a trip to Topeka to investigate the medicines. When he met Mr. Cooper he at once recognized the little boy who had been on his knees years before. The meeting was a mutually pleasant surprise. In relating the occurrence, Mr. Sams says:

"When Mr. Cooper came to Topeka on account of my illness."

"Upon his arrival he was treated with kindness, sympathy, and helpfulness. In a little while he had decided improvements in the medicines made me feel much better. He then stopped the formation of the tumor, helped the action of the bowels, and in taking the medicine I could now walk on the other side, which I had not been able to do in years. Mr. Cooper is successful; he has achieved his purpose."

about a year ago, I went to see him. I have known him all his life, and his parents before him, although I

FARMERS TO CO-OPERATE.

Farmers from all points of Imperial Valley, and a delegation of seven men, representing 100 farmers of Coachella Valley, met in Holt Operhouse, this afternoon, and decided upon the organization of a cooperative association for handling all farm products. Warehouses are to be constructed at towns in each valley and crops are to be stored for members until conditions are most favorable for their marketing. This movement supplants one started several weeks ago to form a stock corporation of this character for Imperial Valley alone. Both Imperial and Coachella Valleys are to work in harmony for better market returns.

San Diego, June 16.—Capt. A. W. Von Schmidt, an old fisherman of this city, has penned a letter asking Gov. Gillett to assist him in finding his young daughter, Mabel.

YON SCHMIDT'S STORY IS PECULIAR.

He left San Francisco in December, 1904, for Tahiti, leaving his daughter, who was then 5 years old, with his sister, Mrs. C. L. Taunton, of Alameda. After spending nine months in the South Sea, he returned, but was unable to find any trace of his daughter or sister. He was told by neighbors that the child had been placed in a school and immediately a better education than he could afford her.

AFTER SEARCHING IN VAIN FOR THE GIRL IN AND AROUND SAN FRANCISCO, YON SCHMIDT HEARD THAT SHE HAD BEEN TAKEN TO SAN DIEGO.

He came here and has continued the search, without success, for almost two years. He makes his living by fishing, and the only article of value he possesses is a string of Tahiti beads which he offers as a reward for information as to the whereabouts of his daughter.

Information was received at the Courthouse today to the effect that Judge Wilbur of Los Angeles had decided the auditor to compel him to draw a warrant in accordance with the last Legislature. The decision was a test case brought by W. R. New, a deputy in the assessor's office. In which Newman sought to maintain the auditor's right to compel him to draw a warrant in accordance with the new salary act. Judge Wilbur decided in favor of the auditor, claiming that the stand that the addition of a new deputy meant an increase in the principal's salary.

THE DECISION HAS NOT YET BEEN RECEIVED HERE.

The decision means that the Sheriff, school superintendent, District Attorney, assessor and Treasurer cannot have the same deputies until the beginning of a new term. The decision does not allow the Auditor and Tax Collector. They are granted a lump sum of $900 and $1500 for help.

DIVERS RECOVER MAIL.

Six Months of Hard Work Results in Recovery of Sacks from Wreck. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) NEW YORK, June 16.—After six months of hard work under eight fathoms of water in the ocean, off Sandy Hook, divers yesterday brought up six bags of first-class mail from the Panama steamship Finance, which was sunk there in collision with the White Star liner Georgic, on November 27, 1904.

When the Finance went down three miles off Sandy Hook, causing the loss of three passengers and one member of the crew, her position was such it could not be believed anything could be saved. The government, however, made a contract for the recovery of the mails and since then the contractor has been working day and night.

The second-class mails were recovered. It was said the first-class mails were so entangled with the wreckage that they could not be brought up. But the divers continued at work, and the recovery yesterday of the six bags of mail, including registered packages, would be saved.

The wreck of the Finance has caused the lighthouse service to maintain a light over the spot as it is within a few yards of the channel used by transatlantic liners.
